New financial assistance now available from CFSOS

The Community Foundation of the South Okanagan Similkameen (CFSOS) has opened applications for the first phase of financial assistance through its SOS Wildfire Response Fund. These recovery grants are available to households whose primary residence was destroyed by wildfire and who are uninsured or underinsured.

Applications are open now until December 11, 2026 – applications will be reviewed as they are received, allowing funding to reach eligible households sooner.

The SOS Wildfire Response Fund will be distributed in three phases, allowing the Foundation to provide assistance now while ensuring resources remain available as new and longer-term needs emerge.

Supporting seniors through wildfire recovery

For older adults who have lost their homes or been displaced by the wildfire, recovery can also mean adjusting to the loss of familiar routines and everyday community connections. These changes can contribute to feelings of isolation, particularly for those who are now living away from their usual neighbourhood. Staying connected can make a meaningful difference. If you are a senior experiencing these challenges, we encourage you to:

- Access free, one-on-one support – by calling Kelly Dixon (403-614-8848) or Kandy White (236-622-2000) or emailing recovery@samaritan.ca. Kelly or Kandy will meet you at a time and location that works for you, and offer continued recovery help.
- Stay informed by signing up for and reading this recovery newsletter – we share upcoming events, resources and supports that may be helpful to you.
- Reconnect with others through local gatherings and activities – including the opportunities listed below.

We encourage community members to check in on older neighbours, friends and family members who may be having a difficult time, and help connect them with available support.
